Functional principle
The core of TROCKEN-MAX is the powerful blower. It produces the warm air, which is then blown through a tread-proof hose of about 300 cm up to the connection of the belly part or back in the blanket. The machine-washable blanket consists of a particular durable and light material. The warm air circulates evenly over neck, back, kidneys and the rear part of the horse. By the pressure produced by the blower, the blanket is slightly floating over the body of the horse automatically adjusting to the body.
